DR A.S.

The Government of India have set up a Central Rice Research Institute at Cuttack to carry out investigations on techonological aspects of rice so as to effect improvement and development of rice crop as a whole. In a note on the origin and programme of work received from the Director of the Institute it is stated that there should be a series of Regional Research Stations which will concentrate on the solutions of problems and the acquisition of Knowledge on matters having local application. This Government enquired the Government of India whether the question of starting regional stations in this Province ~~with the~~ considered. The Government of India was requested to specify, whether any special investigations have to be undertaken by the Central Research Institute on behalf of this Government, if origional station is to be started. The Director of Agriculture who has been consulted in the matter stated that there are no special problems at present which could be taken to the notice of the Central Rice Research Institute. In the circumstances stated no further action seems necessary. The papers may be lodged and added to the previous papres at (A),
